2. Broadcast messages

Jed Stone, Frillby United:

"From the Sports Section:- LONGDALE COURIER - Skelsthorpe

The strange events of last season seems to have penetrated to the depths of the deep pool that is the HQ of the N.L.B.C. (National Leagues Board of Control) who are the guardians of our National game. Generally 'The Committee' absorbs any complaints, criticisms, advice or suggestions on the rules of the game or how it could or should be run to improve things and carefully files them in the nearest bin. The general feeling, as expressed by Patrick McGullan Chairman of 'The Committee' on 'Talking Footy' seems to be 'If it were good enough for our great, great grandfathers in their long baggy shorts and hobnailed boots, playing with a pigs bladder hidden in a hardened, laced leather missile then its good enough for the mamsy pansy softies of today.' A mega sized earthquake, or a very, very large bribe is usually thought to be an initial prerequisite for any approach that may result in any sort of change to the status quo. (Some quarters insist that Mrs McCullan and her knitting needles may have the edge over the earthquake but this has never been proved.) In any event, for the last three seasons there have been claims that aliens have infiltrated our football teams. From accusations that an eight armed Octoagen was playing in goal for Slatibartfast to the infamous footy-beast from last season, rumours about the alien influence on our teams have steady increased to such an extent that the 'Committee' have decided to investigate 'Alien influences on Football!'.

Hopefully the age old question about the existence of aliens may well be answered and we will finally know is it possible for the miniscule brain of an Slavian Speed Slug actually understand the offside rule?"
