Jed Stone, Frillby United:

«From the Sports Section:- LONGDALE COURIER - Skelsthorpe

According to Police reports the instances of flying saucers hovering over training grounds have greatly reduced in the past few weeks. Police Commissioner Snogdon put this down to the employment of QRO's (Quick Response Officers - police men on bikes) who attend incidents at Training grounds as fast as they can peddle. Unfortunately they can't peddle fast enough as the flying things have disappeared long before they arrive. The Police however, do wish to speak to an elderly gentleman carrying a pair of binoculars who has been seen in the vicinity of Slartibartfast, and the Professor's of Jazz Tin Pan Ally Training Ground. The suspect is about ninety years of age, of average height and is usually observed wearing a brown, full-length raincoat, a brown trilby hat and with dark glasses and a long, extremely white, very fluffy beard. When approached he usually makes off on a red 'Demon' skate board. Anyone who can help identify 'Santa Spy' should contact the police immediately.»
